tour of Germany, Italy and Spain that he and his husband, Nathan, took last year. Previously, they had been a host family for two exchange students, so they took their trip to reconnect with those students in their homelands.

The couple's trip began in Germany where their student met them at the airport in Dusseldorf. They toured the area for a few days before heading to Rome where William said they were anxious to have some authentic Italian pizza. They also enjoyed exploring the historical sites and seeing the ancient architecture including the Colosseum, Trevi Fountain, the Pantheon and Vatican City before taking a train to Naples to view the ruins of Pompeii.

The final destination of their two-and-a-half-week vacation was Madrid which William described as the prettiest city he had ever been to. This is where they met another exchange student that they had hosted. He said that one of the benefits of hosting a student is having a place to travel to and share the local attractions.

Another presenter was Alexa Davis, who discussed her two-week road trip with her father and son as they drove from Basehor through Colorado and then north to Wyoming and Montana. During the trip they visited Grand Teton National Park and Yellowstone National Park where she shared photos of the Teton mountain range as well as Old Faithful and the colorful pools in Yellowstone.

Sharon Pelzer shared her adventures on a small cruise line on a trip to Washington, British Columbia and into Alaska. In the past, she has been on three cruises and appreciates the cozier atmosphere of a smaller ship that holds only around 170 passengers. She enjoyed salmon tasting and whale watchers where she saw a family of orcas.

She also saw glaciers close-up in Glacier Bay National Park.

"We thought it would be fun to hear about vacations and trips that local travelers had taken, especially in light of our Summer Reading Program theme. The library is a great place to connect, learn and be inspired and we hope participants
