

Warrior baseball season ends with 1-2 loss to McPherson

Sterling College baseball season came to an end in the Warrior’s senior day series against McPherson College. Sterling won game one in which was played in Sterling on Friday, but lost games two and three which were postponed to Sunday and moved to McPherson due to weather and field conditions.

Game 1

The Warriors came out with a 7-6 win in the first game against McPherson on Friday.

McPherson struck first with a run in the top of the first inning.

Sterling answered back in the bottom of the second inning with four runs. Austin Santiago started things off, working his way around the base path to take advantage of a wild pitch to get home for the score. Ezavien Campos singled to left center field to bring home Nehemiah House.

Tyler Gates hit a sacrifice fly out to left field to bring home Joshua Garcia, who was pinch running for Joseph Almanza. Luis Morales finished things off with a single to right field to bring home Campos and give Sterling the 4-1 lead.

The Warriors extended their lead in the bottom of the third with two more runs. House started it with a single to right field to bring in Jackson Parmenter for the run and Santiago scored on a hit from Campos to push the lead to six.

The Bulldogs battled back with another score in the top of the fifth, to close the gap 6-2.

Campos extended Sterling’s lead with a single to right center to bring home Santiago again and put the Warriors up 7-2.

McPherson slowly crawled back into the game adding runs in the top of the seventh, eighth and ninth innings but ran out of steam as the Warriors took the 7-6 victory.

Jace Phillips started things off from the mound for the Warriors. He pitched seven innings, surrendering three hits, which resulted in three runs, walking six batters and striking out four. Eric Villa came in to relief. He pitched one innings, giving up two hits which resulted in three runs, two earned.

Trenton Canaan got the save for Sterling, pitching the final inning, only giving up one hit and walking one batter, neither of which resulted in a run.

Campos led the Warriors with three runs batted in.

Game 2

McPherson came back swinging in the game two, the first of a doubleheader on Sunday in McPherson, which led to a 25-1 seven-inning win over the Warriors.

The Bulldogs set the tone in the top of the first with the two-run home run from Jared Kramp to put McPherson up 2-0.

Parmenter answered back with a sacrifice fly out to center field to bring home Gates for the run and close the gap, 2-1.

From there on out it was all McPherson, with scores in all of the following innings including a big nine-run innings in the top of the third and a five-run inning in the top of the sixth which led to the eventual 25-1 win for the Bulldogs.

Aaron Alvarado pitched two and two-third innings, surrendering five hits which resulted in nine runs, six earned, while walking five batters, striking out two and giving up two home runs.

Nate Heffline came in for relief, he was unable to record an out, surrendering two hits which resulted in six runs and walking one batter.

Troy Sackett came in and pitched two innings, he gave up four hits which resulted in four runs, walking three batters and striking out four while giving up one home run. Reid Heidtbrink followed Sackett pitching two-thirds of an inning. He surrendered three hits which resulted in five runs, walking three batters and striking out one.

Tyreek Sherman finished off things for the Warriors pithing one and one-third innings. He gave up one hit which resulted in one run, walking one batter and striking out two.

Game 3

Sterling lost the final game of the series, 8-2.

McPherson got on the board first with a double to center field to bring in two scores in the top of the first.

The Bulldogs extended their lead with single-run homers in back-to-back innings in the top of the third and fourth, putting McPherson up 6-0 after the top of the fourth.

The Warriors battled back in the bottom of the fourth. Campos got things started off with a single through the left side to bring home Santiago. Sterling then filled the bases allowing Campos to score when Andrew Dutro was walked closing the gap 6-2.

The Bulldogs were able to extend their lead with a two-run homer in the top of the fifth to put McPherson and eventually give them the 8-2 win.

Aaron Elsasser started things off from the mound. He pitched four innings, giving up four hits which resulted in six runs, walking three batters and striking out two. Villa came in as relief and pitched two innings. He surrendered three hits, which resulted in two runs and walking one batter.

Canaan finished things off in the final inning, he gave up zero hits and walked zero battles.

Sterling College softball dominates York; competes in KCAC tournament

Sterling College softball traveled to York, Neb. to take on York University in the final games of the regular season on Tuesday, April 23. The Lady Warriors had dominant wins in both games of the doubleheader match up.

Sterling left York scoreless in an 8-0 shut-out win in game one.

The Lady Warriors got things rolling in the top of the second with a single through the left side from Madilynn Green to bring home Mallory Seidel for the score. Phoebe Waller also chipped in a run with a double down the left field line to advance Kassedy Midgley home putting Sterling up 2-0.

Sterling added two more runs in the top of the third with Desiree Perales hitting things off with a sacrifice fly to center field to bring home Mariah Cunningham. Aiyana Campos followed it up with a double to right center to bring Kelly Hirlas in for the score. Midgley returned the favor with a single to left field to being home Campos and extend Sterling’s lead to 5-0.

Bryley Westfahl singled to the short stop to bring home Samantha Graham in the top of the sixth inning to add to the Lady Warrior’s lead.

The Lady Warriors finished things out with two more runs in the top of the seventh with Mya Dunn starting things off with a single through the left side to advance Perales home. Midgley finished things for Sterling with a single to left center to bring home Campos and give Sterling the 8-0 victory.

MacKenzie Viehland led Sterling from the center circle, pitching all seven innings and facing 25 batters. The hurler surrendered four hits, which resulted in zero runs, walking no batters while striking out four.

Midgley led the Lady Warriors in RBIs with two while Cunningham and Campos both recorded a stolen base.

Game 2

The second game of the doubleheader was an even more dominant offensive performance from the Lady Warriors as Sterling came away with the 18-3 win in five innings.

Sterling wasted no time getting on the board with Hirlas starting thing off with a sacrifice fly to right field in the top of the first to bring home Westfahl for the run. Perales grounded out to the pitcher which allowed Cunningham to get home and give Sterling the 2-0 lead.

Things continued to roll for the Lady Warriors in the top of the third with Perales working her way around the base path and taking advantage of an errant throw by the catcher as she stole third base to make it home. Midgley then singled through the right side to bring home Campos and Green followed it with a two-run homer to extend Sterling’s lead 6-0.

In the top of the fourth, Perales came through with a triple to right field to bring home Westfahl and then took advantage of a throwing error by the right fielder to get home herself, putting Sterling up 8-0.

Sterling’s big scoring push came in the top of the fifth inning as the Lady Warriors amassed 10 runs.

Waller got it started with a single up the middle to bring home Maria Casillas. Graham worked her way around the basepath and took advantage of a wild pitch to get home. Cunningham grounded out to the first baseman to bring in Waller for the score. Westfahl worked her way around the base path and stole home.

Campos kept things rolling with a single to right field to advance Hirlas home. Perales took advantage of a fielding error to get home, and Graham grounded out to the second baseman which allowed Campos to advance home for the score. Waller finished out the inning with a three-run home run and give Sterling the 18-0 lead.

York tried to battle back in the bottom of the fifth with a three-run homer from Chloe Lockhart but the Lady Warriors shut it down and took the 18-3 victory in five innings.

Allie Olivarria started things off from the center circle, pitching four innings and facing 14 batters. She surrendered one hit, which resulted in zero runs, walking zero batters while striking out four. Casillas came in and pitched one-third innings giving up two hits which resulted in three runs and walking one batter.

Madison Hedgecock came in to finish out the remaining two-third innings, she faced two batters and gave up no hits.

Waller led the Lady Warriors with four RBIs while Westfahl led Sterling in stolen bases with two. Both Waller and Green recorded a home run in the game.

No. 6 seed Sterling faced No. 3 seed Avila University in the KCAC Championship Tournament in Branson, Mo., Wednesday.

SC women’s tennis ends season at KCAC tournament

Sterling College women’s tennis ended its season in the first round of the KCAC Tournament Championship on Thursday as they faced No. 2 seeded Bethel College in Lindsborg.

The KCAC Tennis Tournament is played in a first to four-point fashion with the doubles point being decided first and then the singles points being played out. The Thershers took the doubles point and won three singles matches to come away with the 4-0 win.

In doubles play, Giovanna Gaboardi and Nadia Margaritov took on Dan-

IELA Herrera and Daniela Casique in the No. 1 doubles match where they lost 6-2. In No. 2 doubles, Hannah Giordanelli and Greta Fankhauser took on Patty Huerta and Grace Dawes narrowly losing 7-6. Camila Castro Medina and Ana Alvarez were able to come away with a 6-2 win over Kate Rowland and Charis Yager in the No. 3 doubles match.

Bethel’s next three points came from the No. 2, 3 and 5 singles matches. Margaritov lost to Casique in the No. 2 singles match 6-2, 6-2. In the No. 3 singles contest, Gaboardi lost 6-3, 6-1 to Dawes. Castro Media took on Huerta in the No. 5 singles match losing 6-3, 6-2.

Incomplete matches include Alvarez taking on Herrera in the No. 1 singles contest, Giordanelli facing Mahoney in the No. 4 singles match and Brooklyn Kuhn playing Jireh Gonzalez in the No. 6 singles contest.

“Our women got off to a slow start with a smaller team than anticipated at the start of the season but they did such a good job of battling and finding a way to play for each other,” head coach Nicole Marin said. “Despite injuries and other challenges, these young ladies were able to come away with point against some of the toughest teams in the conference and built up a positive team dynamic and strong bond. Although our seniors will be missed, our returners are motivated to compete and improve next season.”
